New York, Sept. II .- At the opening business on the stock exchange, there was an active demand, which was most marked in the granger Jan. shares. The moving influence was the overnment report, issued late yesterday afternoon, which was less unfavorable than had been anticipated during the past week. The traders had been figuring upon a bad crop report, especially as to corn, and when they ound that their calculations were not carried out, they were in baste to repair the error. Hence, those who had ort contracts on their hands, were lesirous to cover and their purchases ought about a sharp advance, led by Butlington, with a gain of 1%, which brought the price to 77%. Provo, Sept. II.—The Democrats of Provo were determined the Republicans should not take possession of the town until today. So they turned out in force last night. Street arguments were indulged in and above all other sounds could be heard the voice of a very mad Republican, who reared up and pawed the air, and finally screeched with rage when cornered. About the only argument he offered was "I'll bet you a hundred dollars," and when called, he swelled up, bursted his shirt collar and went home. There were others to take his place, only to be worsted in the same way. And, finally, a voice was heard in the crowd crying "Hurrah for Democracy. One Democrat can stand off a whole delegation." All the delegates from the south came in last evening and those from the north this morning. In all there are 440 odd delegates.
